

KJUG COUNTRY in Visalia, CA has the first midday opening in 10 years! We're looking for the next superstar to entertain our audience weekdays from 10am to 3pm. This is not a voice tracking position; you will be live weekdays. This position may include APD or MD duties for an experienced candidate.

As a personality on KJUG, you'll create exciting and entertaining content for broadcast over the air as well as on our stream and various social media platforms. This is an extremely high-profile personality position for the station. The successful candidate will not just reach out to the community, but be a leader in it. We're looking for a proven track record of out-doing the competition for local content, listener interaction, and visibility. Experience with Wide Orbit, multi-track production software, and social media are a plus. This is an all-hands-on-deck position, and you will be expected to assist as needed with our sister stations in-house.

Visalia is in the shadow of the Sierra Nevada range, with easy access to Yosemite, Kings Canyon, and Sequoia National Parks. You'll work in a country lifestyle market in California's Central Valley, some of the world's most productive agricultural land. KJUG is one of the few locally owned, managed, and programmed country radio stations still around, and we pursue an aggressive promotional calendar, including 13 live station concerts in 2022.

Please send audio sample and resume, social media profiles, mobile content, and examples of your past success to rmcneil@momentumbroadcasting.com

Females are strongly encouraged to apply. KJUG-FM is a member of the Momentum Broadcasting Family of stations and an equal opportunity employer.

Minimum 3-5 years of on-air radio experience
