

Morning Show Co-Host & Content Creator

Do you live the country lifestyle? Do you want to do so every morning, in an amazing city, for an independent company, in a state of the art facility? Oh yeah, that's on the heritage country station and you'll be teamed up with a market legend?

Q106 WWQM Madison is looking for a strong communicator on air, online and in person. Applicants must believe in creating unique content every day, be social media savvy and want to win. Superior audio editing production skills. ability to run controls in on air and prod studios. Daily preparation regimen with a growth mindset. Liner jocks, bit thieves and prep service re-readers need not apply.

The proper candidate should also have the ability to write creatively for on air, web and social media. Be equally comfortable in bars, conference rooms and client meetings. Have the willingness to endorse client products. Ability to improvise and be competent with web based dashboards.

It will be helpful if the candidate has Video Production and Editing Skills, local knowledge of Madison, the surrounding area, and the Wisconsin lifestyle and culture.

Experience in Music Scheduling, Google docs, Adobe Suite, Photoshop or equivalent software skills are a plus but not required.

Send what you think will win you the job; audio, video, screen shots, scripts, you know, what you do best, and resume to:

Randy Hawke
VP of Programming & Content MWF Madison
randy.hawke@q106.com

No calls and no social DMs accepted